

Our Collective Vision – Vestry 2007

At St. Francis a community of new and old friends of all ages gather and fill the pews in the chapel and the church every Sunday morning. We minister to one another, and we minister to the greater community.

We are known for our outreach, our generosity of spirit, and new people continually join us and become involved members of our church family. Children, teenagers and young adults are engaged and excited to belong and find their own chance for self-expression and contribution to the community.

Parish life hums with varied activities for all ages.

The buildings and grounds are beautifully maintained. Many hands make communication through e-mail and the Franciscan and the bulletins seamless and easy, and all of us feel the grace of others offering to help. It's such a relief to know that there are many people who are willing to join us in keeping our church alive and vibrant. A natural outcome of this thriving church family is our financial prosperity. Every year we meet our expenses with money left over to share with our world family. Everyone connected to St. Francis in any way feels God's presence through its people.
